

TO: Mail Stop 8 Director of the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office P.O. Box 1450 Alexandria, VA 22313-1450	REPORT ON THE FILING OR DETERMINATION OF AN ACTION REGARDING A PATENT OR TRADEMARK
---	---

In Compliance with 35 U.S.C. § 290 and/or 15 U.S.C. § 1116 you are hereby advised that a court action has been filed in the U.S. District Court Eastern District of Virginia on the following ☐ Trademarks or ☒ Patents. ( ☐ the patent action involves 35 U.S.C. § 292.);

DOCKET NO. 3:12cv530	DATE FILED 7/20/2012	U.S. DISTRICT COURT Eastern District of Virginia
PLAINTIFF comScore, Inc.		DEFENDANT Moat, Inc.
PATENT OR TRADEMARK NO.	DATE OF PATENT OR TRADEMARK	HOLDER OF PATENT OR TRADEMARK
1 6108637	7613635	See Attached Complaint
2 6115680	7716326
3 6327619	7756974
4 6418470
5 7386473

In the above—entitled case, the following patent(s)/ trademark(s) have been included:

DATE INCLUDED	INCLUDED BY <input type="checkbox"/> Amendment <input type="checkbox"/> Answer <input type="checkbox"/> Cross Bill <input type="checkbox"/> Other Pleading
PATENT OR TRADEMARK NO.	DATE OF PATENT OR TRADEMARK	HOLDER OF PATENT OR TRADEMARK
1
2
3
4
5

In the above—entitled case, the following decision has been rendered or judgement issued:

DECISION/JUDGEMENT

CLERK Fernando Galindo	(BY) DEPUTY CLERK /s/ Kara Young	DATE 7/20/2012
---------------------------	-------------------------------------	-------------------

the Brand Analytics and Ad Search products and services, for gathering information on how users view and interact with content transferred over the Internet, which embody the patented invention of the '470 patent.

37. Pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 271, Moat is liable for (i) direct infringement of the '470 patent by having made, used, sold or offered to sell and continuing to make, use, sell and/or offer to sell the software products and services, including but not limited to the Brand Analytics and Ad Search products and services, for gathering information regarding the display of content such as webpages and advertisements transferred over the Internet and end-user interaction with such content; (ii) contributory infringement of the '470 patent by having sold or offered to sell and continuing to sell or offer to sell a material component of the invention embodied in the '470 patent, which is especially made or adapted for use in infringing the '619 patent and which is not suitable for any substantial non-infringing use, in order to provide software products and services to Content Providers for gathering information regarding the display of content transferred over the Internet and end-user interaction with such content, and having knowledge that the '470 patent was/is being directly infringed by Content Providers and end users; and (iii) inducement of infringement by having knowingly caused or intended to cause and continuing to knowingly cause or intend to cause the direct infringement of the '470 patent by Content Providers or end users for gathering information regarding the display of content transferred over the Internet and end-user interaction with such content.

38. As a result of Moat's acts of infringement of the '470 patent, comScore has suffered injury to its business and property in an amount to be determined as damages, and will continue to suffer damages in the future.

39. Unless an injunction is issued enjoining Moat and their officers, agents, servants, employees and attorneys, and all those persons in active concert or participation with them from infringing the '470 patent, comScore will be irreparably harmed.

COUNT V

Infringement of United States Patent No. 7,386,473

40. comScore repeats the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 – 39 as though fully set forth herein.

41. Moat has in the past infringed and continues to infringe the '473 patent, directly and/or by contributory infringement and/or by inducement of infringement, by making, using, selling and/or offering to sell, in this judicial district and elsewhere in the United States, products and services, which embody the patented invention of the '473 patent.

42. Moat's infringement includes, but is not limited to, the manufacture, use, sale, importation and/or offer for sale of software products and services, including but not limited to the Brand Analytics and Ad Search products and services, for gathering information on how users view and interact with content transferred over the Internet, which embody the patented invention of the '473 patent.

43. Pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 271, Moat is liable for (i) direct infringement of the '473 patent by having made, used, sold or offered to sell and continuing to make, use, sell and/or offer to sell the software products and services, including but not limited to the Brand Analytics and Ad Search products and services, for gathering information regarding the display of content such as webpages and advertisements transferred over the Internet and end-user interaction with such content; (ii) contributory infringement of the '473 patent by having sold or offered to sell and continuing to sell or offer to sell a material component of the invention embodied in the '473 patent, which is especially made or adapted for use in infringing the '473 patent and which is not suitable for any substantial non-infringing use, in order to provide software products and services to Content Providers for gathering information regarding the display of content transferred over the Internet and end-user interaction with such content, and having knowledge that the '473 patent was/is being directly infringed by Content Providers and end users; and (iii) inducement of infringement by having knowingly caused or intended to cause and continuing to knowingly cause or intend to cause the direct infringement of the '473 patent by Content Providers or end users for gathering information regarding the display of content transferred over the Internet and end-user interaction with such content.

44. As a result of Moat's acts of infringement of the '473 patent, comScore has suffered injury to its business and property in an amount to be determined as damages, and will continue to suffer damages in the future.

45. Unless an injunction is issued enjoining Moat and their officers, agents, servants, employees and attorneys, and all those persons in active concert or participation with them from infringing the '473 patent, comScore will be irreparably harmed.

COUNT VI

Infringement of United States Patent No 7,613,635

46. comScore repeats the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 – 45 as though fully set forth herein.

47. Moat has in the past infringed and continues to infringe the '635 patent, directly and/or by contributory infringement and/or by inducement of infringement, by making, using, selling and/or offering to sell, in this judicial district and elsewhere in the United States, products and services, which embody the patented invention of the '635 patent.

48. Moat's infringement includes, but is not limited to, the manufacture, use, sale, importation and/or offer for sale of software products and services, including but not limited to the Brand Analytics and Ad Search products and services, for gathering information on how users view and interact with content transferred over the Internet, which embody the patented invention of the '635 patent.

49. Pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 271, Moat is liable for (i) direct infringement of the '635 patent by having made, used, sold or offered to sell and continuing to make, use, sell and/or offer to sell the software products and services, including but not limited to the Brand Analytics and Ad Search products and services, for gathering information regarding the display of content such as webpages and advertisements transferred over the Internet and end-user interaction with such content; (ii) contributory infringement of the '635 patent by having sold or offered to sell and continuing to sell or offer to sell a material component of the invention embodied in the '635 patent, which is especially made or adapted for use in infringing the '635 patent and which is not suitable for any substantial non-infringing use, in order to provide software products and services to Content Providers for gathering information regarding the display of content transferred over the Internet and end-user interaction with such content, and having knowledge that the '635 patent was/is being directly infringed by Content Providers and end users; and (iii) inducement of infringement by having knowingly caused or intended to cause and continuing to knowingly cause or intend to cause the direct infringement of the '635 patent by Content Providers or end users for gathering information regarding the display of content transferred over the Internet and end-user interaction with such content.

50. As a result of Moat's acts of infringement of the '635 patent, comScore has suffered injury to its business and property in an amount to be determined as damages, and will continue to suffer damages in the future.

51. Unless an injunction is issued enjoining Moat and their officers, agents, servants, employees and attorneys, and all those persons in active concert or participation with them from infringing the '635 patent, comScore will be irreparably harmed.

COUNT VII

Infringement of United States Patent No. 7,716,326

52. comScore repeats the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 – 51 as though fully set forth herein.

53. Moat has in the past infringed and continues to infringe the '326 patent, directly and/or by contributory infringement and/or by inducement of infringement, by making, using, selling and/or offering to sell, in this judicial district and elsewhere in the United States, products and services, which embody the patented invention of the '326 patent.

54. Moat's infringement includes, but is not limited to, the manufacture, use, sale, importation and/or offer for sale of software products and services, including but not limited to the Brand Analytics and Ad Search products and services, for gathering information on how users view and interact with content transferred over the Internet, which embody the patented invention of the '326 patent.

55. Pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 271, Moat is liable for (i) direct infringement of the '326 patent by having made, used, sold or offered to sell and continuing to make, use, sell and/or offer to sell the software products and services, including but not limited to the Brand Analytics and Ad Search products and services, for gathering information regarding the display of content such as webpages and advertisements transferred over the Internet and end-user interaction with such content; (ii) contributory infringement of the '326 patent by having sold or offered to sell and continuing to sell or offer to sell a material component of the invention embodied in the '326 patent, which is especially made or adapted for use in infringing the '326 patent and which is not suitable for any substantial non-infringing use, in order to provide software products and services to Content Providers for gathering information regarding the display of content transferred over the Internet and end-user interaction with such content, and having knowledge that the '326 patent was/is being directly infringed by Content Providers and end users; and (iii) inducement of infringement by having knowingly caused or intended to cause and continuing to knowingly cause or intend to cause the direct infringement of the '326 patent by Content Providers or end users for gathering information regarding the display of content transferred over the Internet and end-user interaction with such content.

56. As a result of Moat's acts of infringement of the '326 patent, comScore has suffered injury to its business and property in an amount to be determined as damages, and will continue to suffer damages in the future.

57. Unless an injunction is issued enjoining Moat and their officers, agents, servants, employees and attorneys, and all those persons in active concert or participation with them from infringing the '326 patent, comScore will be irreparably harmed.

COUNT VIII

Infringement of United States Patent No. 7,756,974

58. comScore repeats the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 – 57 as though fully set forth herein.

59. Moat has in the past infringed and continues to infringe the '974 patent, directly and/or by contributory infringement and/or by inducement of infringement, by making, using, selling and/or offering to sell, in this judicial district and elsewhere in the United States, products and services, which embody the patented invention of the '974 patent.

60. Moat's infringement includes, but is not limited to, the manufacture, use, sale, importation and/or offer for sale of software products and services, including but not limited to the Brand Analytics and Ad Search products and services, for gathering information on how users view and interact with content transferred over the Internet, which embody the patented invention of the '974 patent.

61. Pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 271, Moat is liable for (i) direct infringement of the '974 patent by having made, used, sold or offered to sell and continuing to make, use, sell and/or offer to sell the software products and services, including but not limited to the Brand Analytics and Ad Search products and services, for gathering information regarding the display of content such as webpages and advertisements transferred over the Internet and end-user interaction with such content; (ii) contributory infringement of the '974 patent by having sold or offered to sell and continuing to sell or offer to sell a material component of the invention embodied in the '974 patent, which is especially made or adapted for use in infringing the '974 patent and which is not suitable for any substantial non-infringing use, in order to provide software products and services to Content Providers for gathering information regarding the display of content transferred over the Internet and end-user interaction with such content, and having knowledge that the '974 patent was/is being directly infringed by Content Providers and end users; and (iii) inducement of infringement by having knowingly caused or intended to cause and continuing to knowingly cause or intend to cause the direct infringement of the '974 patent by Content Providers or end users for gathering information regarding the display of content transferred over the Internet and end-user interaction with such content.

62. As a result of Moat's acts of infringement of the '974 patent, comScore has suffered injury to its business and property in an amount to be determined as damages, and will

FILED

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
EASTERN DISTRICT OF VIRGINIA

2012 JUL 20 P 4:19

-----X
COMSCORE, INC.

Plaintiff,

CLERK, U.S. DISTRICT COURT
ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA
Case No. 3:12-cv-530-HEH

v.

MOAT INC.

JURY TRIAL DEMANDED

Defendants.
-----X

COMPLAINT FOR PATENT INFRINGEMENT

Plaintiff comScore, Inc. ("comScore") brings this action against defendant Moat Inc., formerly known as SAGG, LLC ("Moat"), and hereby alleges as follows:

THE PARTIES

1. comScore is a corporation organized and existing under the laws of Delaware having a principal place of business at 11950 Democracy Drive, Suite 600, Reston, VA 20190.
2. Moat is a corporation organized and existing under the laws of Delaware having a principal place of business at 228 Park Avenue South, Suite 17953, New York, NY 10003.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

3. This action arises under the Patent Laws of the United States, 35 U.S.C. §1, et seq. This Court accordingly has jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§1331 and 1338(a).
4. This Court has personal jurisdiction over Moat. Upon information and belief, Moat does business in the Commonwealth of Virginia and this District, contracts to supply goods or services within the Commonwealth of Virginia and this District, has continuous and systematic business contacts within the Commonwealth of Virginia and this District, derives substantial revenue from interstate commerce from goods used or services rendered in the Commonwealth of Virginia and this District and commits and has committed acts of patent infringement either within the Commonwealth of Virginia and this District, or outside the Commonwealth of Virginia and this District with a reasonable expectation that such acts would have consequences within the Commonwealth of Virginia and this District.

5. Venue is proper in this judicial district pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1391(b) and (c) and 28 U.S.C. §§ 1400(b).

FACTS COMMON TO ALL COUNTS

6. On August 22, 2000, U.S. Patent No. 6,108,637 (the "'637 patent'"), entitled "Content display monitor," a copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit A, was duly and legally issued to Trevor Blumenau. comScore is the owner by assignment of the '637 patent.

7. On September 5, 2000, U.S. Patent No. 6,115,680 (the "'680 patent'"), entitled "Computer use meter and analyzer," a copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit B, was duly and legally issued to Steven R. Coffey, et al.. comScore is the owner by assignment of the '680 patent.

8. On December 4, 2001, U.S. Patent No. 6,327,619 (the "'619 patent'"), entitled "Metering of internet content using a control," a copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit C, was duly and legally issued to Trevor Blumenau. comScore is the owner by assignment of the '619 patent.

9. On July 9, 2002, U.S. Patent No. 6,418,470 (the "'470 patent'"), entitled "Metering of internet content using a control," a copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit D, was duly and legally issued to Trevor Blumenau. comScore is the owner by assignment of the '470 patent.

10. On June 10, 2008, U.S. Patent No. 7,386,473 (the "'473 patent'"), entitled "Content display monitoring by a processing system," a copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit E, was duly and legally issued to Trevor Blumenau. comScore is the owner by assignment of the '473 patent.

11. On November 3, 2009, U.S. Patent No. 7,613,635 (the "'635 patent'"), entitled "Content display monitor," a copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit F, was duly and legally issued to Trevor Blumenau. comScore is the owner by assignment of the '635 patent.

12. On May 11, 2010, U.S. Patent No. 7,716,326 (the "'326 patent'"), entitled "Content display monitor," a copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit G, was duly and legally issued to Trevor Blumenau. comScore is the owner by assignment of the '326 patent.

13. On July 13, 2010, U.S. Patent No. 7,756,974 (the "'974 patent'"), entitled "Content display monitor," a copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit H, was duly and legally issued to Trevor Blumenau. comScore is the owner by assignment of the '974 patent.

14. Moat provides products and services, including but not limited to the Brand Analytics and Ad Search products and services, for gathering information regarding the manner in which content transferred over the Internet such as webpages and advertisements are displayed, as well as how end users view and interact with such content.

15. Upon information and belief, Moat contracts and/or partners with web site operators and publishers, advertisers, and/or advertisement distributors ("Content Providers") to distribute executable code to monitor, measure and collect data related to content displayed on end user devices and end user interaction with such content, to generate metrics from such collected data, and to generate reports from such metrics.

COUNT I

Infringement of United States Patent No. 6,108,637

16. comScore repeats the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 – 15 as though fully set forth herein.

17. Moat has in the past infringed and continues to infringe the '637 patent, directly and/or by contributory infringement and/or by inducement of infringement, by making, using, selling and/or offering to sell, in this judicial district and elsewhere in the United States, products and services, which embody the patented invention of the '637 patent.

18. Moat's infringement includes, but is not limited to, the manufacture, use, sale, importation and/or offer for sale of software products and services, including but not limited to the Brand Analytics and Ad Search products and services, for gathering information on how users view and interact with content transferred over the Internet, which embody the patented invention of the '637 patent.

19. Pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 271, Moat is liable for (i) direct infringement of the '637 patent by having made, used, sold or offered to sell and continuing to make, use, sell and/or offer to sell the software products and services, including but not limited to the Brand Analytics and Ad Search products and services, for gathering information regarding the display of content such as webpages and advertisements transferred over the Internet and end-user interaction with such content; (ii) contributory infringement of the '637 patent by having sold or offered to sell and continuing to sell or offer to sell a material component of the invention embodied in the '637 patent, which is especially made or adapted for use in infringing the '637 patent and which is not suitable for any substantial non-infringing use, in order to provide software products and services to Content Providers for gathering information regarding the display of content transferred over the Internet and end user interaction with such content, and having knowledge that the '637 patent was/is being directly infringed by Content Providers and end users; and (iii) inducement of infringement by having knowingly caused or intended to cause and continuing to knowingly cause or intend to cause the direct infringement of the '637 patent by Content Providers or end users for gathering information regarding the display of content transferred over the Internet and end user interaction with such content.

20. As a result of Moat's acts of infringement of the '637 patent, comScore has suffered injury to its business and property in an amount to be determined as damages, and will continue to suffer damages in the future.

21. Unless an injunction is issued enjoining Moat and their officers, agents, servants, employees and attorneys, and all those persons in active concert or participation with them from infringing the '637 patent, comScore will be irreparably harmed.

COUNT II

Infringement of United States Patent No. 6,115,680

22. comScore repeats the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 – 21 as though fully set forth herein.

23. Moat has in the past infringed and continues to infringe the '680 patent, directly and/or by contributory infringement and/or by inducement of infringement, by making, using, selling and/or offering to sell, in this judicial district and elsewhere in the United States, products and services, which embody the patented invention of the '680 patent.

24. Moat's infringement includes, but is not limited to, the manufacture, use, sale, importation and/or offer for sale of software products and services, including but not limited to the Brand Analytics and Ad Search products and services, for gathering information on how users view and interact with content transferred over the Internet, which embody the patented invention of the '680 patent.

25. Pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 271, Moat is liable for (i) direct infringement of the '680 patent by having made, used, sold or offered to sell and continuing to make, use, sell and/or offer to sell the software products and services, including but not limited to the Brand Analytics and Ad Search products and services, for gathering information regarding the display of content such as webpages and advertisements transferred over the Internet and end-user interaction with such content; (ii) contributory infringement of the '680 patent by having sold or offered to sell and continuing to sell or offer to sell a material component of the invention embodied in the '680 patent, which is especially made or adapted for use in infringing the '680 patent and which is not suitable for any substantial non-infringing use, in order to provide software products and services to Content Providers for gathering information regarding the display of content transferred over the Internet and end user interaction with such content, and having knowledge that the '680 patent was/is being directly infringed by Content Providers and end users; and (iii) inducement of infringement by having knowingly caused or intended to cause and continuing to knowingly cause or intend to cause the direct infringement of the '680 patent by Content Providers or end users for gathering information regarding the display of content transferred over the Internet and end user interaction with such content.

26. As a result of Moat's acts of infringement of the '680 patent, comScore has suffered injury to its business and property in an amount to be determined as damages, and will continue to suffer damages in the future.

27. Unless an injunction is issued enjoining Moat and their officers, agents, servants, employees and attorneys, and all those persons in active concert or participation with them from infringing the '680 patent, comScore will be irreparably harmed.

COUNT III

Infringement of United States Patent No. 6,327,619

28. comScore repeats the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 – 27 as though fully set forth herein.

29. Moat has in the past infringed and continues to infringe the '619 patent, directly and/or by contributory infringement and/or by inducement of infringement, by making, using, selling and/or offering to sell, in this judicial district and elsewhere in the United States, products and services, which embody the patented invention of the '619 patent.

30. Moat's infringement includes, but is not limited to, the manufacture, use, sale, importation and/or offer for sale of software products and services, including but not limited to the Brand Analytics and Ad Search products and services, for gathering information on how users view and interact with content transferred over the Internet, which embody the patented invention of the '619 patent.

31. Pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 271, Moat is liable for (i) direct infringement of the '619 patent by having made, used, sold or offered to sell and continuing to make, use, sell and/or offer to sell the software products and services, including but not limited to the Brand Analytics and Ad Search products and services, for gathering information regarding the display of content such as webpages and advertisements transferred over the Internet and end-user interaction with such content; (ii) contributory infringement of the '619 patent by having sold or offered to sell and continuing to sell or offer to sell a material component of the invention embodied in the '619 patent, which is especially made or adapted for use in infringing the '619 patent and which is not suitable for any substantial non-infringing use, in order to provide software products and services to Content Providers for gathering information regarding the display of content transferred over the Internet and end-user interaction with such content, and having knowledge that the '619 patent was/is being directly infringed by Content Providers and end users; and (iii) inducement of infringement by having knowingly caused or intended to cause and continuing to knowingly cause or intend to cause the direct infringement of the '619 patent by Content Providers or end users for gathering information regarding the display of content transferred over the Internet and end-user interaction with such content.

32. As a result of Moat's acts of infringement of the '619 patent, comScore has suffered injury to its business and property in an amount to be determined as damages, and will continue to suffer damages in the future.

33. Unless an injunction is issued enjoining Moat and their officers, agents, servants, employees and attorneys, and all those persons in active concert or participation with them from infringing the '619 patent, comScore will be irreparably harmed.

COUNT IV

Infringement of United States Patent No. 6,418,470

34. comScore repeats the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 – 33 as though fully set forth herein.

35. Moat has in the past infringed and continues to infringe the '470 patent, directly and/or by contributory infringement and/or by inducement of infringement, by making, using, selling and/or offering to sell, in this judicial district and elsewhere in the United States, products and services, which embody the patented invention of the '470 patent.

36. Moat's infringement includes, but is not limited to, the manufacture, use, sale, importation and/or offer for sale of software products and services, including but not limited to